

intrana[®]

Rectal Probe

- Made in Iran by Hormoz Kian Company
- Verified by Iran Ministry of Health
- ISO13485:2016 certified
- Compatible with any type of EMG Biofeedback and electrical stimulation
- Ergonomic design and easy placement
- Used as anal and vaginal
- Packed during the disinfection process
- Washable and reusable frequently for one patient

Features of intrana[®] rectal probe

The intrana[®] rectal probe with ergonomic design is used for treatment disorders related to the pelvic floor muscles in men and women.

The intrana[®] rectal probes are disinfected and it has isolated package which closed completely after each use.

This probe is compatible with most of EMG biofeedback and electrical stimulation devices.

The structure of the intrana[®] probe is completely waterproof; for reusing just wash it with soap and water.

standards

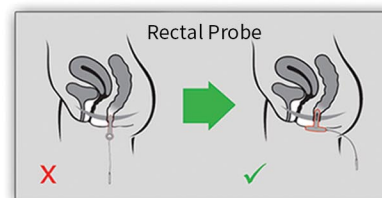

The intrana[®] probe has ISO10993 and IEC60601 certification for safe operation, which does not cause any side effects or harm to the patient.

The intrana[®] rectal probe does not protrude during treatment due to its ergonomic structure, and you can use it for the patient by laterally and supine position.

User tips

To use the intrana[®] probe, it is necessary to read the instructions on the back of the package by the physician and the patient carefully!

In order to get desired performance of intrana[®] rectal probe, should be used in correct angle as shown below.

Produced by:

Hormoz Kian Medical Engineering Company

Head Office:

No. 202, Unit 4, East Ferdows Blvd., Sadeghieh Sq.,
Tehran, Iran

Tel: +9821 4496 4335

Fax: +9821 4404 2631

Web: www.hormoz-kian.com

Email: info@hormoz-kian.com

Attention!

Rectal and vaginal probes with intrana[®] and intravag[®] trade names produced by Hormoz Kian Company have been registered under number of 40633 in the Iran Intellectual Property Organization, any copying of them is prohibited and will be prosecuted!